HOW CAN WE ALL PLAY A PART IN CLIMATE ACTION?

22nd November 2022, 10am - 1pm
Lancaster Institute for the Contemporary Arts

A symposium focusing on design for equitable climate action.

Climate change affects everyone but not everyone is able to take effective action against the climate crisis. How can design create accessible opportunities to engage with the climate crisis? How can design work for the benefit of both our community and climate?

Taking case studies from Lancashire, London, Brixton, Birmingham and Bristol spanning e-waste and repair, community housing and collective action, we ask how we might respond equitably to the climate crisis.

The event is free and open to anyone concerned with the climate crisis.

The symposium is a collaboration between ImaginationLancaster – a design-led research lab at Lancaster University and Future Observatory – a national programme for design research supporting the UK's response to the climate crisis at The Design Museum.
