What this little book tells you?

This Little Book tells you about how the Healthier Fleetwood programme from the perspective of Fleetwood residents. It explores how Healthier Fleetwood helped the community break out the loneliness, make new friends, and reconnect with the town life. Finally, it tells you some inspiring stories of change within Fleetwood.

Who is this Little Book for?

This Little Book is for Fleetwood residents and was co-designed with the residents themselves. It is based on conversations and workshops that happened in Fleetwood between 2021-2022.

This Little Book is also for people who want to know more about Healthier Fleetwood. Particularly those new to the town or that simply want to explore more of what's on offer.

Finally, this Little Book is for people like you and me. People that are wondering what if... This Little Book will encourage you to go out, find new friends and re-discover your town.

Our town, our community, our solution.

The relationship between residents and organisations is built on the community's feeling that has been listened to. However, often services are put into communities to "fix" things without understanding the community's needs or even who they are. Healthier Fleetwood was born from the community and became what Fleetwood needed.

Healthier Fleetwood is a place for the community to try, experiment, and make new friends. But, how does Healthier Fleetwood become what it is today?

The original idea of Healthier Fleetwood came about when a local GP, Mark Spencer, wanted to better understand why health in the town wasn't improving despite advances in medical treatments. The starting point was to listen to what really mattered to the residents of the town. He then thought that he could up with a plan, but soon realised that it had failed even before it started. His idea was of a well-structured organisation. But, Fleetwood residents are proud (and like to challenge the rules). If there was something to do, it needed to come from the residents themselves!

HEALTHIER FLEETWOOD

connecting our community

Healthier Fleetwood logo.

Several coffees after and chatting with many more people, a new idea evolved. Healthier Fleetwood was a channel to listen to the community to support people to help themselves. This new approach required some guidance but empowered the community to come up with the solutions to their own problems.

Who can better understand the community than the community itself? It really sounds weird, isn't it? But by supporting different groups to do what they wanted, Healthier Fleetwood had found its path, but more over it brought hope to Fleetwood.

“People need hope and aspiration. They need to feel they are part of that journey.”

by Andrea Saniford

At the time of writing this Little Book, Fleetwood residents meet every month. Pauline Kennedy chairs the meetings. Her role is to start the conversation and encourage people to share the good news. This turns out to be fantastic, as people have different ways to express themselves. Some share poems, some others sing, but many people just speak. Everyone is heard and respected.

Healthier Fleetwood supports people to become who they want to be. It gives them the connections and helps they need to do the right solution for them. By listening to what you need, Healthier Fleetwood can help you. To make you feel listened to. To make you feel how special you are.

Bid loneliness goodbye

We, humans, are social. The company of others makes you feel good. Family and friends are an important part of your daily lives. This desire to socialise even helps to give a structure to your day.

Indeed, many of Fleetwood's residents felt that socialising make them happier. The idea of visiting your parents, your grandchildren and your friends gives structure to your day. Planning ahead where and when are you meeting is essential.

Being with others can also give a sense of hope. Something to look for during the day, a way of sharing your journey with your loved ones.

Healthier Fleetwood helps the residents connect with people that otherwise won't be connected to. A different way to meet other people and bid loneliness goodbye. You must recognise that regardless of your age, you can always meet people and be together again no matter where you are.

Breaking the loneliness in a community brings back the sense of community. But more important brings hope to your lives. You may wonder how

Back to netball group supported by Healthier Fleetwood.

Healthier Fleetwood can help me make new friends? Isn't it just about health? Well, yes, it's about health, but not only physical health.

Healthier Fleetwood recognises that by feeling part of something, you can feel better. Healthier Fleetwood supports other people like you to achieve your goals. It connects people to make them feel happier. Healthier Fleetwood connects you to 'what's in the town' and things you can do. It is up to you to bid loneliness goodbye.

Activities bring together people with similar interests. Whether you are good or not at it doesn't matter. People are here together to have a good time and learn new skills.

The activities organised by the community and supported by Healthier Fleetwood are open to everyone. They are a great opportunity not only to meet others but also to learn new skills.

The Harmony and Health group is a singing group. In this group, some people meet to sing, others to hear others sign, others to dance, and others to meet people. In all four scenarios, people meet with others.

Harmony and Health group supported by Healthier Fleetwood.

People feel part of something. People have something to look for during their week. But more importantly, leave your home and make it happen! This is the case with many other activities.

New friends

When I started school, my mom always used to say: “New friends are everywhere; you just need to make an effort to meet them.” Many years had passed, and yet it remains true. Perhaps, being introverted, the only thing I’d change is “to make an effort to get out.”

Many of us may feel alone, our friends may have moved out, our family may be far, and in some cases, some may have passed away. We might have gotten used to the feeling, but sometimes we ask ourselves: am I the only one like this?

these venues feel like you. They are also there to meet others and make new friends.

Healthier Fleetwood monthly meetings are also a great venue to get closer to others. Everyone is invited to these meetings. You will hear news about regular and new activities, meet new people, and discover what is on offer in the community.

Healthier Fleetwood connects you to venues to meet other people and make new friends. The platforms are open to everyone. All you need to do is to know the door. Make an effort to get out. Making new friends is much more likely to happen if you put yourself out there!

Give it a go

Healthier Fleetwood supports people like you to do what they want to do. Many have chosen to create groups to get closer to others. These groups have different goals. Some are more physical, such as football and walking groups, and others are more relaxed, like singing or crafts. But the important part is that like-minded people come together to learn and develop new skills.

There are groups for every taste. The groups are not only organised by the type of activities but also for their end goal. Some activities are just there to meet new people, such as the coffee group. Others, to have a space for people that have gone through similar experiences, like the veterans' group. Or even just to give a new purpose by volunteering.

While there is a wide range of opportunities, the staff at the Affinity shop are there to help you. They are friendly and always happy to have some tea and talk with you about what are your interests. David Grove is passionate about the community and knows what's on offer. He is always happy to recommend you things that may be of interest to you.

These activities are also good for learning new skills. Perhaps you are already good at singing or yoga, but what about gardening? I guess what I want you to know is that you already know what you are good at. But why not give it a go-to something new?

There are more than 60 groups, for example: the social cycling & family rides, science & discovery club, include football, walking football, afternoon tea dances, craft group, gardening club, and many others. There is something for every taste, just pop into the the Healthier Fleetwood hub or website (<https://www.healthierfleetwood.co.uk/try-something-new> ) to find something right for you.

Men's walking fotbball group supported by Healthier Fleetwood.

You may come to the shop with something in mind. But with David's knowledge about what's on offer, you might even find new interests. You will never know, give something new a try, and you may find a new hobby. Who knows what you might be good at.

and everyone made me feel welcome here."

Find out more

It's always been difficult for me to be on top of what is happening. Happily, for me, Healthier Fleetwood is always there. There are two main ways where you can find out what is happening in my town. Attending one of the monthly meetings that Healthier Fleetwood organises or popping into the Affinity shop.

The monthly meeting is open to everyone. The meetings are a safe space for the residents all to share your concerns. They are where you can find out what's happening in town and meet new people.

Healthier Fleetwood monthly meetings.

The Affinity shop is located in the Affinity shopping centre. There Healthier Fleetwood has a shop. They keep information about what is happening and lots of other things. Dave Grove is usually there and he is always happy and keen to help.

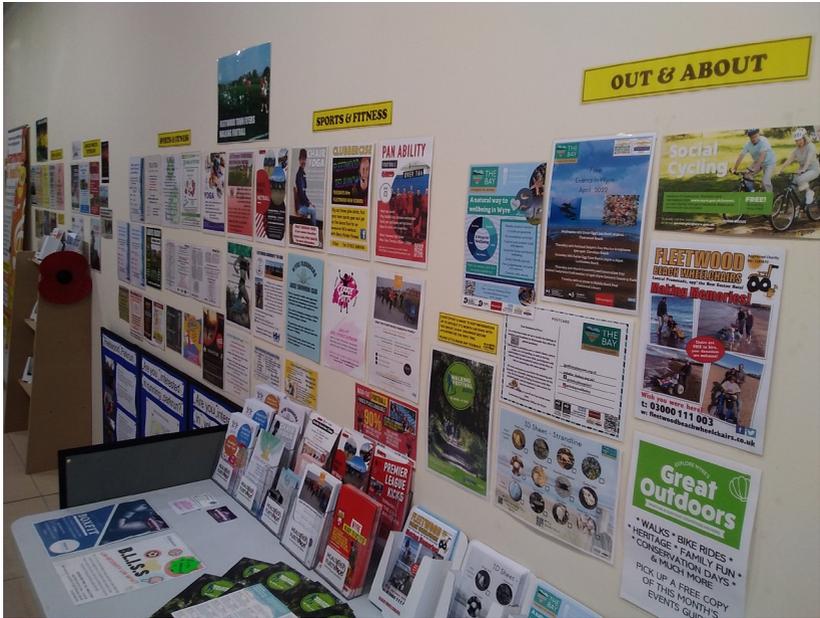

These two ways are how you can find out what is happening in your wonderful town. If you need more information or want to get involved, you can contact Healthier Fleetwood's team. Although it's a small team, they are always very friendly.

Mark Spencer, Pauline Kennedy, Karen Boylan and David Gore are the key contacts for Healthier Fleetwood. You can contact them at:

This could be you

The mood of many of us is influenced by some external factors, such as the weather, but there are some factors that we can control. A structure for your day or something to look forward to is a great example of things for which you can plan. Visiting family, going out for a coffee with a friend, or planning to walk along the seafront are great examples. In fact, many people said that these little changes helped them.

A day in Fleetwood

The picture shows what areas helped some people in Fleetwood to get a better day. But also, it is important to recognise the help that we get through others. A friend, family or someone you meet from Healthier Fleetwood can make you see things differently.

Healthier Fleetwood supports day-to-day life in many aspects. Helping people like you and me boost your self-confidence and improve your health. Healthier Fleetwood also helped many of people to recognise where you find happiness. It can come from the little things that surround us.

Healthier Fleetwood was a great support during the COVID-19 lockdown. As social networks were already in place, they helped keep an eye on each other. More importantly, it helped respond quickly and provide the support Fleetwood needed.
